CS 290 – Project Proposal
Kendell Crocker – ONID: crockerk

For my project, I think I would like to do a website for a fictional small business. This will make it easy to meet all the requirements and allow for a little bit of creativity in the design.

The homepage (See figure 1) is pretty simple. Tt allows for a carousel and either text describing the business, or a form. It also has a header with contact info, navigation buttons, and a clear title. This header will be carried through to the other pages.

Fig. 1: Homepage

Useful Links?

Title of Page/Website

Contact Info

Navigation Buttons (Other Pages)

Carousel

Text to Introduce Website, or a Form.

As for the rest of the pages (see figure 2) they will all be similar, but they will have different content and information. Ideas for the different pages are:

- Contact Us - A form for the user to input contact info/problem they need help with.
- Company History – Simple text with pictures describing the company's history.
- What We Do – Page dedicated to showing what the company does, and how they can help you.
- Our Team – Page for meeting the team of "experts" that will assist them. (Make interactive?)

Fig. 2: Subpages

Useful Links?

Title of Page/Website

Contact Info

Navigation Buttons (Other Pages)

Form or text, depending on the subpage and what the page is for. NOTE: The header for the entire website will always be the same.